2025 Keynote Speaker Julie K. Brown

Julie K. Brown is an investigative reporter with the Miami Herald. In 2018 she wrote "Perversion of Justice," a series that examined how a rich and powerful New York financier, Jeffrey Epstein, managed to arrange a secret plea deal and escape life in prison -- even though he sexually abused more than 100 underage girls and young women.

In 2023 she was part of the team at the Miami Herald that was awarded a Pulitzer Prize in Journalism for Breaking News Reporting.

About The Child Abuse Conference

The Northeast Child Abuse Conference is nationally recognized as the premier child abuse conference in the Northeast region. This cutting-edge multi-disciplinary training is a must for anyone who works with children including social workers, law enforcement, prosecutors, mental health and medical professionals, school personnel, day care providers, the faith-based community and more.

The speakers and workshops are presented by regional and national experts on a wide variety of topics. The goal of our conference is to educate members of our community- and beyond- about collaborative ways to prevent, treat, and investigate child abuse.

“Excellent event, my colleagues and I were truly blown away and have been talking all day about what a great conference it was. Thanks so much!”

“I enjoyed the event and have already told my Program Manager that I would like to attend in 2025.”
